Note from the designer

The compass represents the rich rituals, folklore, and traditions of the Netherlands fused with modern wisdom. As a symbol, the compass signifies providing guidance and motivation to someone feeling lost. This is what we call our key principle. Bracelets by Compass Jewelry help create your own pious space, inside of yourself. An inner refuge, calm and focused, where you can navigate to your soul, your inner bliss—just like a compass guides a lost soul to its destination.

Gracefulness and Positivity Infused in Ensemble!

You've always been a bit of a spiritual person, and you know that your bracelet can't just be about looking good and feeling good. You want to wear it to remind yourself that you're heading in the right direction. The Compass is the perfect way to express your spiritual side, while making a statement about your own personal style. It represents the direction of the north, which signifies a life of service to others and self-mastery.

These bracelets are more than just an accessory; with their unique design and engraving, they are going to let everyone know that you're a stylish explorer who cares about making the world a better place for everyone around them.

See What Our Clients Ask About US

★★★

Paul

"Checked you out on Instagram and your mesmerizing vintage-type designs attracted me. Long over the cake was your quick shipping and packaging. I am really excited to shop more from you to build my collection."

Manon

"I was initially doubtful of the stone powers. But I must say now that my ideology has changed as I used a black skull bracelet for 20 odd days. It helped me achieve healing and peace of mind. To me compass jewelry is an art form of creativity and self-expression. I always wear it as a form of self-expression."

★★★★★

Marlies

"What's the secret of your healing jewelry? I mean I feel so good and on top of the world whenever I wear a pendant and bracelet. I love compass jewelry and their service"

Brand philosophy

The philosophy of the compass is the core of our design—to guide the lost souls to their inner souls, your deep awakening, and your peace. And this spirituality in our designs comes with a dash of style backed by the elements of aesthetics, symmetry, harmony, and humor. Our design symbolizes exploration, adventure, and willingness to push you outside of your cocoon—that's exactly what a compass does.

The Inspiration

"Let your heart be your compass, your mind your map, your soul your guide...and you will never be lost." (Ritu Ghatourey)

We think that this quote is what sums up the whole idea behind the creation of our brand.

The Design

Balance as a fundamental aspect of our design philosophy, with a healthy tension between meaning and form. Our pieces are also immersed in meaning for the stones used, are sacred and precious for their specific range of spiritual vibration.

The Tradition

We take pride in the fact that we are a rooted brand inspired by the splendid craftsmanship, awe-struck artistry and rich Dutch heritage as well as the swag of the Caribbean soul. We stride to continually grow in unique directions.

The Community

Every single piece by Compass Jewelry reflects the tradition, skills, experience, and dedication of our artists. Whatever background, qualification and tradition they breathe in, they all share the same passion for creating mesmerizing jewelry.
